Q4FY16 Result Update

Welspun India Ltd

Good Long Term portfolio stock

Welspun India Ltd (Welspun) for Q4FY16 on a consolidated basis reported good set of numbers. Revenue grew 19% YoY to ₹1,628 crore, on the back of higher volumes (up 12% YoY) and better product mix. EBITDA margins expanded by 74bps to 26%, owing to better vertical integration across product categories and higher share of innovative and branded products. Net profit grew 20% to ₹193 crore. The management has retained its revenue guidance of mid-teens and EBITDA margin guidance of 22-24%. Currently, Welspun's towel and sheets capacity is running close to full utilization levels and hence it is looking to further expand its capacity. The management has unveiled its Vision 2020 – "Welspun 2.0" which would help drive the overall business momentum.

Recommendation: Welspun has been a good performing stock, in-line with our expectation, giving a return of 13% since our Q3FY16 update vs BSE 500 return of 8%. The company under Welspun 2.0 is looking at expanding its product range and exploring new channels, segments and geographies. With an aim to cater to the increasing demand for its products the company is further expanding its capacities. Focus on innovative products, domestic business and higher branded sales would help improve realizations and drive business growth over the next few years. Given the good financial performance, the stock is a good portfolio holding in the medium to long term. We value the company at 6.5x FY18E EV/EBITDA, giving a target price of ₹121, providing an upside of 22.1%.

Better product mix led to overall good performance in FY16: Welspun's domestic retail sales (~5% of revenue) registered a growth of 47% in FY16. The company's ingredient product Hygro has witnessed good traction among customers and reported revenues of $150 million which are expected to increase further to $200-250 million in FY17. Share of better margin innovate products stood at 34% (vs 31% in FY15) and branded products at 13% (vs 11% in FY15). Going forward, Welspun is working on new products (smart textiles), innovative products (Drylon and Nano core) and new channels (healthcare and hospitality) to drive future business growth.

Capacity addition to aid growth: For FY16, Welspun incurred a capex of ₹1,100 crore for capacity enhancement and modernisation. The current capacity for towels, sheets and rugs stands at 60,000 tonne, 72 million metres and 8 million sq. metres, respectively. For FY17, Welspun plans to incur capex of ₹800 crore (includes ₹250 crore spilled over from FY16). By FY17, these capacities will stand at 72,000 tonne, 90 million metres and 10 million sq. metres, respectively. Welspun continues to generate positive free cash flows after capex due to better operational performance. We anticipate net debt to equity to improve to 0.6x in FY18E from 1.2x in FY16.

Welspun 2.0 – Built to Last: Under its Vision 2020, Welspun aims to achieve revenue of $2 billion, nil net debt level, improve the share of revenue from innovative and branded products to 40% and 25%, respectively and revenue from domestic markets to 20%.

Risk factors: 1) Availability of raw material, 2) rise in input costs, 3) currency risk, 4) government policies, 5) trade barriers are some of the business risks.

Technical View on Welspun India Ltd

- Welspun India continues to trade in a long term higher high higher low setup with a clearly defined overall structure.
- The scrip is currently in a mild upward sloping consolidation mode and has been finding support near its 21 week moving average on every trading correction.
- At the current juncture, 95-92 range is thus expected to be a strong support range from where the scrip is likely to see trading demand. Buying is recommended on dips towards the range for a target of 118 in the coming 6 months for which 87.5 stop loss is recommended.
