Record margin yet again; stellar prospects

India Equity Research | Textiles

Welspun India's (WLSI) Q3FY16 result was characterised by yet another record high EBITDA margin—26.9%—driven by increased share of innovative products, especially Hygro Cotton. The company also raised its margin guidance to 23-24% from 20-22%. Revenue growth was flat QoQ, in line with our estimate, as the company was constrained by capacity. As we roll forward to FY18E, we revise up our EV/EBITDA to 7.0x driven by: a) margin sustainability; b) robust free cash flow; and c) lower leverage. Hence, we upgrade to 'BUY' with a revised target price of INR1,128 (INR849 earlier).

Another quarter of record margin; guidance raised to 23-24%

WLSI reported another quarter of stellar margin—26.9%, up 146bps QoQ and 161bps YoY. The growth was driven primarily by higher share of innovative and branded products, especially Hygro Cotton, wherein it launched its campaign for ingredient branding with retailer brands this quarter. Driven by this traction in brands and innovative products, WLSI has revised up EBITDA margin guidance from 20-22% to 23-24%.

Revenue growth flat; new capacity to be commissioned by Mar '16

Revenue grew 10.7% YoY riding 7% volume jump. However, the revenue growth was flat QoQ as incremental capacity in sheeting and towels got commissioned towards the quarter end. While the entire sheeting capacity has been commissioned, balance 5,000 tonnes in towel will be added by March 2016. The strong traction in domestic retail (majorly Spaces) continued with 90% YoY growth in Q3FY16 (YTD up 52%).

Outlook & valuations: Abundant cash flow ahead; upgrade to 'BUY'

WLSI's margin has improved consistently and driven by its confidence in sustaining the momentum, the company has revised up its margin guidance. In addition, it is now close to the end of its massive capex programme, post which it should generate strong free cash flow (cumulatively INR19bn over FY17-18E). Moreover, its D/E has been consistently falling and should be below 1.0x by FY18E. As we roll forward to FY18E, we increase our EV/EBITDA to 7.0x (6.0x earlier) giving us a TP of INR1,128 (INR849 earlier). We upgrade our recommendation to 'BUY' from 'HOLD'. At our TP, the stock is valued at 3.5x FY18E P/BV, with an RoE of 31%.

Why we raise our multiple?

- Margin sustainability: WLSI has consistently improved its margin. While the rise is partially attributed to currency, it has been primarily driven by increase in share of innovative products. Driven by its confidence in sustaining these margins, it has upgraded its margin guidance from 20-22% to 23-24%.
- Robust free cash flow: WLSI is at the end of its massive INR25bn capex programme it had undertaken in FY14, with only INR7bn to be spent over the next 9 months. Even for incremental growth it believes only INR3bn capex will be needed to sustain 5-6% volume growth. The company's confidence in generating free cash is also evident from its recently announced dividend policy of 25% payout ratio. Going forward, it is expected to generate strong free cash flows (cumulatively INR19bn over FY17-18E).
- Consistently lowering leverage: Gross debt/equity has fallen from 2.2x at FY15 end to 1.7x as of now. We estimate this to fall below 1.0x by FY18E.

Q3FY16 concall highlights

- Q3FY16 results
  - WLSI was again declared the No.1 home textile supplier in the US for the fourth consecutive year.
  - The company launched the Hygro Cotton campaign. It has seen significant traction here. It will be an ingredient branding launch where Private players have agreed to put the 'Hygro' label on their products.
  - Domestic retail business clocked stupendous growth of 90% YoY in Q3FY16.
  - During the quarter, innovative products contributed 34% to revenue and branded segment contributed 12%.
  - The business reported 7% volume growth with balance contribution of ~3% coming from exchange benefits.
  - Capacity utilization:
    - Bed sheet: 95%.
    - Towel: 100%.
    - Rugs: 70%.
  - ~70% revenue came from the US, 18-19% from Europe and balance from branded sales.
  - Margin expanded driven by foreign currency benefit (3% on revenue), increased backward integration and also change in product mix.
- Capex
  - WLSI has commissioned all the 328,000 spindles.
  - The incremental 5,000 tonnes in towel will be commissioned by March 2016.
  - Capacity in carpets will increase to 20,000 tonnes by Sep-16
  - The remaining capex of INR7bn will be done over the next 9 months: INR3bn will be spent in Q4FY16 and INR4bn in FY17.

- Plan for the balance INR7bn
  - Still some integration is pending in bed linen.
  - Investing INR1bn for automation.
  - INR1bn investment will be made for sustainability. Also, investing about 8-10MW for power at Vapi which will cost INR0.8-1bn.
  - Carpet will require limited expenditure of INR500mn.
  - A large part of capex is addition of 5,000 tonnes of towel and vertical integration in bedding.
- The company stated that capacity will not be an issue for growth:
  - WLSI believes volumes can jump 5-6% over FY17 and FY18 (i.e. post the current capex) by investing only ~INR3bn per annum.
  - It does not believe capacity will ever be a constraint for growth.
  - Also, incremental capacity can be commissioned in a quarter or two.
- WLSI is contemplating on increasing capacity further and it could announce something on this by next month.
- Retail & innovative products
  - Retail domestic revenue was INR420mn and for 9mFY16 it was INR1.1bn.
  - The 'Hygro Cotton' brand for 9mFY16 has already clocked revenue of USD90mn and WLSI anticipates strong growth ahead as well.
  - It has 16 patents in the pipeline.
- Expansion in Europe:
  - All things equal, margins in Europe will be lower due to: a) current duty structure; and b) fragmented market which leads to smaller orders.
  - As a result, WLSI is positioning itself slightly higher where it is offering only high end products. This helps it bridge the margin gap.
  - If the Free Trade Agreement (FTA) goes through, India will gain market share.
  - The first set of meetings on FTA will happen over the next few weeks.
  - It stated that the government understands that not many treaties are going through and India is being left out
  - However, the deal could take 18-24 months.
- Industry related
  - WLSI believes the fear over Chinese currency is overdone as the depreciation of CNY and INR has been similar in the 4-5% range.
  - Also, India has 5-10% cost advantage. Hence, unless there is a greater than 10% depreciation, there is nothing to worry.
  - WLSI also mentioned that Chinese players have virtually stopped bidding for home textile contracts
  - Trans Pacific Partnership (TPP)

- The Trans Pacific Partnership (TPP) is more focused on garments and that too synthetic. Therefore, it will mainly hamper China.
- The implementation of TPP is a 10 year process.
- WLSI believes that in home textiles, there is no risk as there are no major home textile players in Vietnam.
- The rate of growth in wages in Vietnam will outstrip India's which will also hamper its competitiveness.
- In relation to the MEIS benefits, the Foreign Trade Policy (FTP) review will happen in 2018. MEIS benefits could be taken off then.
- WLSI believes there is still a huge untapped potential for India in the filled products section e.g. comforters. Here India's share is only 7% and China's share is 60-65%.
- Debt:
  - The company received interest equalization with retrospective effect from Mar-15.
  - Looking at similar net debt levels in FY15 and FY16.
  - Interest equalization benefit was INR40mn for the quarter.
  - The benefits from Gujarat textile:
    - Interest subsidy which is 5%.
    - VAT refund which is subject to investment in plant and machinery: Available for domestic sales from Gujarat government. This will increase as the company increases domestic sales.
- Business related:
  - Overall realization has improved due to better product mix as there has been no price increase.
  - WLSI believes its above industry growth has been driven by its solutions like 360 degree, innovation etc.
- Guidance:
  - WLSI has upgraded for EBITDA margin of 23-24% driven by traction in innovative and branded products
  - WLSI is confident of achieving 13% annual growth target.
  - The 13-17% guidance takes care of all aspects i.e. volume, exchange rate and price.
  - Anything between 10% and 15% growth is sustainable.

Company Description

Established in 1985, Welspun India today, it is one of the top three home textile manufacturers globally and the largest home textile company in Asia. It has modern manufacturing facilities at Anjar and Vapi in Gujarat where it produces an entire range of home textiles for bed & bath category. The company has state-of-the-art completely vertically integrated plants, right from spinning to confectioning.

Welspun has been ranked No.1 among home textile suppliers in the US (Source: Home Textile Today). It has a distribution network in over 32 countries including US, UK, Europe, Canada and Australia.

In addition to manufacturing facilities, which predominantly supply to private labels, the company also maintains its own brands Christy, Hygrocotton, Welhome and Spaces - Home and Beyond; it also has a tie up with Nautica for North American markets.

Investment Theme

Innovation, diversified client and product base cement dominance: Welspun enjoys long standing relationships with top retailers in the US and Europe and supplies to 14 of the top 30 global retailers. It commands a lion's share of home textiles exported out of India. Increasing geographical and client diversification is improving the company's risk metrics. It has seven trademarks and has applied for six patents till date. Welspun derives ~30% of sales from innovative products.

Capex underway to bolster already formidable capacity: The company is undertaking a major capex programme to enhance its cost base, lending it pricing power and opportunities to increase market share globally. This will propel vertical integration to ~75% (~35% currently). The capex is being funded by low-cost subsidised debt, which will increase capacity without substantial interest burden.

Returns: High capacity utilisation and increased backward integration will drive 364bps expansion in EBITDA margin over FY14-16E. Similarly, RoEs are likely to maintain upward trend and cross the 35% mark in FY16E (890bps expansion over FY13-16E).

Key Risks

Raw material risk: Raw material costs, primarily cotton yarn, account for 50% of the overall expenses and are a prime driver of profitability. Volatility in cotton prices can impact the profitability adversely.

Leveraged balance sheet: Welspun ended FY15 with a net debt/equity of 1.8x. It is in the midst of a capex programme with a remaining outlay of INR6bn. This is likely to keep leverage levels high in the future and may pressurise profitability.

Currency fluctuations: Welspun exports more than 90% of its production. With a network spanning 50 countries, the company is exposed to currency fluctuations which can significantly impact profitability.
