

Modern Slavery Act Transparency Statement

This statement sets out the steps taken by Welspun Global Brands Limited (the "Company") during the year ending March 31, 2016 to prevent modern slavery and human trafficking in its business and supply chains.

The Company is committed to ensuring that its business and supply chain reflects the Company's values and respect for human rights. The Company is committed to strengthening its processes to combat modern slavery and human trafficking.

All employees involved in the engagement of vendors will be instructed to communicate our strict compliance with anti-slavery and anti-human trafficking policies to all prospective parties at the outset of our business relationship. We will monitor the relationship and give appropriate direction to vendors, when required.

The Company is a leading global player whose core business is distribution and sale of home textiles products and it sources goods within India.

As part of the Company's commitment to combatting modern slavery and human trafficking, the Company has implemented Ethics and Compliance Policy which inter alia covers the following:

The Company complies with all applicable laws and regulations in the countries where the Company conducts its business. The Company's Ethics and Compliance Manual provide guidance to all officers, directors, employees and representatives on compliance with international trade laws.

We will identify, assess, and monitor potential areas of risk in relation to Tier 1 vendors within our supply chain.

The Company's vendor evaluation process will include appropriate processes to vet current and potential vendors for their possible involvement in modern slavery and human trafficking. The compliance process will include, amongst other things, screening of vendors for the presence of forced and child labour. If we discover evidence of slavery or human trafficking with any of our vendors through this process and such vendor refuses to comply, we will refrain from doing business with such vendor.

To maintain internal accountability, all relevant personnel will be trained to recognise environment, health, safety, and labour/worker concerns, including issues relating to slavery, human trafficking and forced labour, and to report and investigate all suspicions of improper conduct by Tier 1 vendors.
